THE GREAT CHAMPION.

On the 30th of November last, on an article upon the silver question and Senator Jones, the Journal said:

In the coming great fight in Congress we feel assured that the great champion of silver will bear an honorable part in the battle that will be won for the people of the whole country, and that will be of double advantage to the particular State he has the distinguished honor to represent.

The great speech just delivered by Senator Jones is a complete verification of the prediction. The interest it has aroused all over the country and the marked attention with which its delivery was received by the Senator's colleagues indicate that he is looked upon as the great champion of bimetalism. Not only is this so in the United States, but equally as pronounced among the friends of the white metal on the Continent. He is the great General of the Silver Army. The best years of his life have been devoted to the cause, and when, finally, to the wage-workers and farmers of this country and all the people generally shall come the inevitable realization that prosperity is due to a true financial basis, secured through the blessing of the rehabilitation and reamortization of silver, that metal having its true place alongside of and equal to gold in every monetary respect, the name of John P. Jones will be so revered that generations yet unborn will thank the day that Nevada elected him a Senator of the United States in 1872 and continued him a Senator as long as he lived.

JONES' GREAT SPEECH.

Another Washington dispatch says "the scene in the Senate Chamber during Senator Jones' speech was a fair indication of the great interest felt in it and the subject. Senators from the mining States, Stanford, Hearst, Stewart, Teller and others, sat close to Jones and gave him most earnest attention, but an almost equal degree of interest was shown by all the Senators present. Everyone on both sides of the Chamber wheeled his chair around so as to face the speaker. There was no conversation indulged in, no newspaper reading, no letter writing, but during the three hours that the speech occupied, every Senator seemed to be paying the closest attention to it. The number of persons in the gallery, however, was not large.

General Sheehan has been recommended by the Pacific Coast delegation as Register of the Land Office at San Francisco, vice Waite. A most excellent appointment.

The Burlington road has reduced the price between Chicago and St. Paul to $3.

S. W. Backus has been confirmed by the Senate as Postmaster at San Francisco.

GROUNDLESS FEARS.

The Tuscarora Times-Review says: The fear has been expressed that in the event of the people voting for a Constitutional Convention the lottery men will get in their work by electing a majority of delegates who will remove the present constitutional prohibition to that class of gambling, and perhaps even legalize it beyond the power of legislative forbiddance. We do not think there is any reasonable ground for such anticipation. The voters at the special election last year, in our opinion, settled that question for all time. It is by no means probable that half a dozen delegates favorable to the lottery interest would be elected in the entire State, and it is beyond the bounds of reasonable presumption, that even a convention composed of a majority of that element would submit a constitution, with a provision or opening of that kind to the people of the State with the expectation of its ratification. At all events if it should come to the worst, the people would have the last say, for the instrument without their concurrence could not become the fundamental law of the State. There are hundreds of reasons why a convention should be called. They have been enumerated, at different times in the past in these columns, and never a line has been written or spoken in refutation of the arguments which this and other Nevada journals have adduced in favor of the proposition.

The Times-Review would oppose the adoption of any constitution or law encouraging, or even non-prohibitive of lottery schemes in the State. It, however, has no idea that it ever will have occasion to do so, and reducing the necessity of such constitutional changes can only be effected by means of a convention called for that purpose, it will continue to advocate the measure undeterred by imaginary danger, which can never by any possibility develop into a real one.

He Robbed the Company.

Special to the Journal.

LOS ANGELES, May 14.—Publication is made to day of the disappearance of James D. Chambers, formerly foreman of the Los Angeles Cable Company's stables. It is alleged that Chambers defrauded the company out of at least $5,000, by selling horses and mules, and returning less proceeds than he received. It is also claimed that he exacted from the employees a per cent of their wages to insure them keeping their places.

TELLER TALKS ON SILVER.

THE TARIFF TALKERS STILL AT IT IN THE HOUSE.

Base Ball Notes—A Banker Jailed—General News Notes.

Teller's Silver Speech.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Edmunds introduced a bill to establish a university of the United States and had it referred to the Senate Committee on Education.

The silver bill was then taken up and Teller addressed the Senate. He spoke of the bill as relating to perhaps the most important question that has been presented to the Senate since the demonetization of silver in 1873, if it could be truthfully said that the question was ever presented to the Senate. He disclaimed any anxiety or special interest in promoting the price of silver save and except that silver was an American product and therefore every American ought to have an interest in advancing its price. It would not do to say "Silver Barons" west was demanding it, or that its demand was in the interest of cheap money. It was demanded in the interest of humanity, in the interest of civilization in the interest of progress, in the interest of the whole human race. He criticized the Windom bill and said he could not see what purpose and object that scheme was.

Teller went on to speak of the silver plank in the National Republican platform as promising full recognition of silver money, and said the plank was inserted in recognition of the universal demand of the country for the use of silver and money and he would insist upon its observation whether it pertained from the administration or not. Did the pending bill, he asked, recognize silver in accordance with the platform? He thought not. Without concluding his speech, Teller yielded to a motion to go into executive session. When the doors were reopened the silver bill was laid aside informally until tomorrow and the Senate proceeded to business on the calendar, and after passing several bills adjourned.

The Tariff in the House.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, D. C. May 14.—Various amendments looking to a reduction of the duty on earthen china and glassware were made on the Democratic side but met with no success. In the course of the discussion Bynum, of Indiana, said the Committee on Ways and Means in the formation of its bill had closed the doors of capital against the labor of the country, but omitted manufacturers.

McKinley said this imputation was false. He did not permit any man to impute to the committee any bad motives or a lack of courtesy to the minority. Having considered sixteen of the fifty-six pages of the bill the House adjourned.

Their Sentences.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—Clarence Sanborn, the so-called "patent agent," convicted of using the United States mails to defraud inventors, was to-day sentenced to serve 18 months' imprisonment on one count, 12 months on the second, and six months on the third, and to pay a fine of $250 on each count. Samuel Sanborn, similarly indicted, was sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment and a fine of $100.

Wine for Sacrament

Special to the Journal.

ST. LOUIS, May 14.—In the Southern Methodist Conference to-day, the Committee on Temperance reported in favor of unfermented wine for sacrament, approved the resolution opposing all laws licensing or permitting the manufacturing or sale of intoxicating liquors and declaring that a complete legal prohibition of the traffic is the duty of the Government.

Hoeftich Wins.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—The annual meeting of the Commonwealth company was held this afternoon at the office of the company in Nevada Block. There were 92,675 shares represented and the following Board of Directors was elected to serve for the ensuing year: Thomas Bell, G. W. Grayson, H. C. Hyman, Morris Hoeftich and T. B. Phoby.

A Triple Murder.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 14.—A triple murder was committed at Bentleyville, near here, last night. John Crouch, a wealthy farmer, his wife and grown up son were found this morning in bed with their throats cut from ear to ear. Robbery is supposed to be the cause.

Uniting the Indians.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The Secretary of the Interior favors the uniting of the Indians of the Pine Ridge Agency, S. D., and those at Tongue River Agency, Mont., and locating them upon the Crow or some other reservation.

ELKO COUNTY.

Topographical Features

Elko county is situated in the northeastern part of the State of Nevada. It is 155 miles wide at the north, 102 miles wide at the south; 100 miles long on the east side and 70 miles on the west side, and contains 16,670 square miles, or 10,668,800 acres.

Of this area about one-half is covered by high mountains from 6,000 to 11,000 feet in elevation above the sea, one-fifth is rolling hills, while the remainder—over 3,000,000 acres—is table and valley land, fit for agriculture, with elevation of 4,500 to 6,000 feet. Extending across the county, east and west, about 20 miles south of the north boundary is the watershed separating the waters of the Columbia and Snake rivers from those of the Great Basin. This watershed is composed of several different parallel mountain ranges, which trend nearly north and south. At some points these ranges are connected by cross mountains. At other places, in the valleys between the mountains, the divide is hardly noticeable.

On the north side of this watershed are six large streams, viz.: Goose creek in the east, Salmon river, Brunau river and the East, Middle and West Forks of the Owyhee river. The valleys of the first three are narrow, containing very little agricultural land. Salmon river, which is the largest, has about 15,000 acres which could be cultivated. The East Fork of the Owyhee river flows across Duck valley, which contains 20,000 acres of fine agricultural land in this State. The Middle, or Main Fork of the Owyhee and the West Fork flows across what is known as "The Owyhee Desert." This desert is the southern edge of the greatest lava overflow on the earth, and covers 1,000,000 acres of land in this county. The soil is very rich and about 600,000 acres are nearly level and fit for cultivation. It is very likely that four of these streams which now flow north, viz., The Salmon, Brunau and East and Middle Forks of the Owyhee rivers—at one time discharged their waters in the opposite direction.

South of the watershed in this county is a second watershed, which divides the Great Basin into two parts. On the east is the Salt Lake Basin, on the west the Humboldt Basin. There is only one stream—Thousand Spring creek—which flows direct into the main Salt Lake Basin. This main stream is formed by two forks. The north fork heads in the divide between the Columbia river and Great Basin, flowing south, and is called Rock creek. The south fork heads in the divide between the two branches of the Great Basin flowing northeast, and is the main Thousand Spring creek. Below their junction the stream turns southeast and the waters generally sink west of the line between Nevada and Utah Territory, at what is known as the Tacoma Bottoms. These bottoms are situated where the creek leaves the mountains, and there are 125,000 acres of valley land lying this side of the State line, upon any part of which the waters of the creek could be taken.

In the southeastern part of the county, east of the second watershed mentioned, the country is divided into two valleys by ranges of mountains which trend north and south. These valleys have no present outlet for their waters and were, at a period of greater precipitation of moisture than now, lake beds. It filled now with water 200 feet in depth they would overflow north or south. The eastern valley—called Goose lake in this county, is about sixty miles long and from three to twelve miles wide. The southern part of the valley extends nearly 100 miles into White Pine county, and is called Steptoe valley. This valley is very poorly supplied with water, the moisture in the clouds being caught and precipitated by the higher mountains on the north and west, from which directions most of our storms come.

The western valley is divided into two parts by a low divide, and each of these subdivided into two parts. The northern part is called on its eastern side Independence valley, and on the west Clover valley. Clover valley is the highest, lying close to the second watershed and supplied with water by streams flowing from the mountains. Independence valley is lower and the water supply comes mostly from Clover valley in the surface streams formed from the overflowing waters, and artesian springs fed by the water which sinks in the ground at the foot of the mountains. These valleys are each about twenty-five miles long, north and south, and eight wide.

Southwest of Clover valley is the second part called North and South Ruby. North Ruby is nearly half moon shape, the valley curving on the east side and nearly straight on the west. It is thirty-five miles long, north and south, and fourteen wide. At the south end is situated Franklin lake, which, when full of water is twelve miles long and two and one-half miles wide.

South Ruby is twenty miles long, three miles wide at the north end and five miles wide at the south. Ruby lake covers most of South Ruby, being sixteen miles long, two miles wide at the north and three miles at the south when full of water. The north twelve miles of this valley are in Elko county and the remainder in White Pine county.

West of this valley lies the Ruby range which is the most prominent and important mountain in the State. It forms the main part of the watershed between the basins of Salt Lake and Humboldt river, and has an elevation of 11,000 feet. This range is highest in the north, having a great precipitation of moisture which flows onto the valley lands from both slopes. It extends sixty-five miles into the county from the south boundary, north. Franklin lake and North Ruby valley are well supplied with water from this range. West of South Ruby the Ruby range is lower and furnishes very little water, only one stream—Cave creek—flowing into Ruby lake at all times of the year. Ruby lake and the valley around it is watered by artesian springs, which are fed mainly from the streams in North Ruby.

West of this watershed all the streams rising in it, and in the watershed between the Columbia and Snake rivers and the Great Basin, are tributaries of the Humboldt river. On the south side of the Humboldt river, commencing on the northeast, the main streams—which head in Ruby Range—are Trout, Star valley, Secret, and Lamolite creeks and the South Fork. On the north side, commencing on the northeast, are Bishop and Taber creeks, Mary's river (which is the main head of the Humboldt), North Fork, Susie, Maggie, Boulder, Rock and Evans creeks, and the Little Humboldt. These all head in Elko county, but the last four empty into the Humboldt river in Lander and Humboldt counties. In fact, there are but two tributaries of the Humboldt river that do not head in this county. Pine valley creek heads in Eureka county, but receives its greatest supply of water from the mountains on the line between Elko and Eureka counties; and Reese river heads in and flows nearly the full length of Lander county.

The two watersheds separate the county into three nearly equal divisions, the Columbia river division containing 4,940 square miles or 3,161,600 acres; the Salt Lake division 5,860 square miles, or 3,750,400 acres; and the Humboldt division 5,870 square miles, or 3,756,800 acres.

KISSED ANOTHER MAN'S WIFE.

"You scoundrel!" yelled young Jacob Green, "at his good neighbor Brown—" "You kissed my wife upon the cheek—" "I ought to knock you down." "That's where you're wrong," good Brown answered him; "that I've not denied—" "Well," replied Green, "since you ask it, I will tell you; she uses Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I accept your apology—" "A good night's sleep is rarely, if ever, beautiful. The peculiar diseases to which so many of the sex are subject, as profligate causes of pale, sallow faces, dull, listless eyes and emaciated forms. TO THE PUBLIC, GENERALLY.

THAT MY WIFE HAS LEFT ME FOR NO cause whatever, and has used for a divorce on the grounds of adultery, which charge I deny. WOMEN OFFICIALS.

The Lady Municipal Officers of Edgerton, Kansas, Disgraced.

The ladies recently elected municipal officers of the city of Edgerton, Kansas—Mrs. W. H. Kelly, Mayor; Mrs. Thomas Greer, Police Judge, and Mrs. Matras, Mrs. Rolla Holden, Mrs. H. O. Brown and Mrs. Stewart, members of the City Council—have become disgusted with their newly acquired honors and resigned their positions. They were elected originally as a joke, and when they qualified and manifested a disposition to reform the old way of doing things the men kicked and stormed and made such a racket that life became a burden to the fair young officers and they threw up the sponge. The ladies had laid a programme to build sidewalks, clean the streets, close up the hard-cider joints and stir up the old dry-bones generally. But the men declared that as they paid the taxes there should be no changes made, and so rather than have a row the ladies determined to resign and let the men who are so wedded to their idols run things as they always have. The men, however, are most all opposed to the ladies resigning, and several of them declare that they will re-elect these same officers at the special election which has been called for May 19th. If the ladies are re-elected they will consider it an endorsement of their intended programme and qualify and serve, and then carry out their proposed reforms.

Three of a Kind.

A remarkable case of fecundity has come to light at Pomona, Cal. The wife of Ignacio Martinez, a poor laboring Mexican who lives at Puentes, gave birth Sunday to male triplets, whose total weight was twenty-three pounds. The mother and her three babies are all in good condition and the father is happy.

The couple have been married twenty-two years, and Mrs. Martinez is only 39 years of age. She has given birth to fourteen children in all. Four of them were twins. She says her mother had nineteen children and three pairs of twins, and that her grandmother had twenty-one children and at one time seventy-eight grandchildren.

Manager Piper requests the JOURNAL to announce that persons who engaged reserved seats for the one-night engagement of the American Opera Company can have their money refunded by calling at Nasby's. NEVADA SILVER CONVENTION.

Upon this subject the Tascara Times-Review says:

Hon. Thomas Fitch, one of the Vice-Presidents of the National Silver Association, has issued a call for a Silver Convention to be held at Carson on the 29th instant. It is a well-timed and judicious movement, and one which, if endorsed and acted upon in the proper spirit by the people of the State, will undoubtedly have a beneficial effect in shaping legislation pertaining to the all-important question at Washington. Unquestionably the people of Nevada are nearly unanimous in their desire that nothing less than free coinage should be accepted by the silver men in Congress; that a bill to that effect should be introduced and the issue squarely made, instead of seeking such concessions from the goldites as will perhaps insure a little temporary benefit, but which will leave silver in the condition of a commodity and without recognition as one of the lawful coin metals of the nation. The bill which the dispatches report as agreed upon by the Senate Silver Committee is not satisfactory to the bimetallicists of the West. It is subject to the objections just above mentioned, and it would be better to wait another year for the reinstatement of the white metal to its proper position than adopt a measure which will remove the coveted goal far into the gloomy mists of an uncertain future. The convention should be held and it should be a rousing, enthusiastic and demonstrative one. A set of ringing resolutions should be adopted, which would prove to our Congressional representatives that the people of Nevada are in no mood to be trifled with upon this subject; that the national parties and politics are secondary considerations with them; that they want free unlimited coinage, pure and simple, and that they don't care a continental profanity where the votes come from so long as like the bedbug, they get there just the same.

But the convention date is near and no time should be wasted. What is everybody's business is nobody's business. There are no organizations in the different counties for inaugurating local action in the selection of delegates. For this reason in some of the counties, there is danger of the matter going by default. To obviate this the Times-Review would make the following practical suggestion: Let the Republican and Democratic County Committees meet in joint session and select the best qualified men in their counties, irrespective of party, to represent their jurisdictions in the convention. Perhaps it would be better that delegations should be composed of about an equal number from both political parties, but that would make no particular difference. There would be no clashing on that question. The greatest trouble in remote counties would be to find persons with the necessary qualifications, who would be willing to make the trip to Carson. The suggestion in Mr. Fitch's call, that the people meet at the Court House to elect delegates, is open to the objection that the meetings would only be attended by residents of the county seats. The joint action of the already organized committees as we have suggested, would, in our opinion, insure greater enthusiasm and a larger attendance at Carson. It would, moreover, be conclusive evidence to the politicians at Washington that the people of Nevada ignore politics in the consideration of the matter of such paramount importance to them, and that no political capital can be gained from juggling as has for the last few months signified the handling of the silver question at Washington.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. A Woman Killed.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 14. — Mrs. Emma L. Burt, of this city, arrived from San Francisco on the morning train and took a hack at the depot for her home. The horses started off before the driver had taken his seat and ran down the street at a wild pace. Mrs. Burt jumped from the hack and fell on her head, fracturing the skull. She died in a short time.

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

To Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other.

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." Mrs. ELLA A. GORR, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.

250 Beautiful Lots For Sale!

A RARE CHANCE FOR AN INVESTMENT AND A HOME

THE MOST LOVELY PORTION OF RENO.

Facing the Truckee—The Aristocratic Avenue Riverside Driveway—Splendid Sewerage—Healthy Location and Safe From Fire.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia Street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town this Addition faces the beautiful Truckee River and Riverside Avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone Avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is it is more safe from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

Before Buying Elsewhere Parties will do Well to Look at These Lots.

RENO

Reno's geographical position is excellent. It is on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, only 154 miles from Sacramento, and 244 miles from San Francisco. It is the terminus of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad running south, and of the Nevada and California Railroad running north. It has two Flouring Mills, Planing Mills, three Nurseries, a Soap Factory, Reduction Works, and other industries. A great Woolen Mill and a Sash, Door, Blind and Box Factory, are about to be established.

Reno has the Bank of Nevada with $300,000 capital, and the First National Bank with $200,000 capital. It has two fine papers in the DAILY and WEEKLY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL and the Daily and Weekly Gazette.

Reno is the natural home of the Alfalfa, and therefore the great cattle headquarters of the State. Here are fed the prime beef for the California market. Reno potatoes are the best in the world, and she also excels in Strawberries and the small fruits. Reno Wheat took the first prize at the great New Orleans Exposition.

The State Fair is always held at Reno.

Reno is the County Seat of Washoe County, the wealthiest county in Nevada.

Situated in the very heart of the celebrated Truckee Meadows the future of Reno is assured. Reno is the City of Homes. There is not a house to rent in Reno. New buildings are occupied as fast as erected. Reno has advantages which no other town can equal. The climate is mild and genial in Winter, and even and healthful in Summer. There are no excessively heated or severely cold terms, and while the days may be warm in Summer the nights are deliciously cool; in Winter sleigh-riding is the exception and not the rule.

Facilities for irrigating surpass any in the State and there is no failure of crops. Reno has Churches of all denominations, Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, Mt. St. Mary's Academy, the State University, and splendid Public Schools.

The Reno Water Co. furnishes ample pure, cold water for all purposes. The Reno Electric Light Co.'s electric light system, already well established, is being augmented. The Reno Gas Co. supplies gas for all purposes. The streets of Reno are lighted by electricity.
